TENNIS CLUB RE-ORGANIZED FOR SEASON

Courts Will be in Good Shape
This Week -- Fine Stand
Erected for Spectators --
Formal Opening Next Tuesday.

A meeting of the tennis enthusiasts was held on the court last Monday evening and it was decided to re-organize for the season. Early in the season some of the more energetic members went to considerable trouble and expense putting the grounds in shape and erecting a comfortable stand for spectators. In order that this work should be made use of and to give the young folks an opportunity of taking advantage of this form of amusement and recreation, a number of the men present met to work out the courts of work which had sprung up since last the courts were used. This completed, several interesting sets were played after which the following officers were appointed: President--Wm. Perrin. Sec.--C. T. Hall, R. Stener, J. D. Stener, W. Campeau, Miss Reid and L. S. Stone. Entertainment Com.--Mrs. Perrin, Mrs. Stener, Mrs. Hall, Miss Duffield, and Miss Phillips. One court is now in excellent condition for use, and the second will be ready by the end of this week. The officers extend an invitation to all interested to visit the courts and make use of them during these long summer evenings. We understand the ladies of the entertainment committee are preparing a program for the formal opening next Tuesday evening.

Redcliff Loses First In Ball Tournament

The Redcliff baseball team entered in the tournament in connection with the Hat Stampede and played their first game with Burdette last evening. Although Redcliff lost out by a narrow margin of 13 runs to 12, they put up a good game towards the finish. In the last half of the ninth the score stood at Redcliff having pulled up in their half. Thenceforward a tenth inning in which Burdette scored the only run, thus winning the game.

May Establish Flying Corps Here

A Quebec flying officer of wide experience has given some cogent reasons for the establishment of a Canadian Flying Corps. The proposal is now being discussed by Sir Robert Borden both with the Imperial and Canadian authorities on the other side. The proposed organization would have an important bearing on what might be a great Canadian industry. At present Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and even India have their own air forces and, under the control, therefore. Though many Canadians are in the Royal Air Force, yet Canada gains very little credit from their exploits. Deliberations are proceeding with the Canadian scheme and it was hinted the officer that the scheme might be made, whereby the Canadians might become practically a unit to themselves. The scheme has the approval of Gen. Sir Richard Turner and Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, and would be very popular with the officers and men overseas.

Conscription Works In Newfoundland

Newfoundland's conscription law, which went into effect six weeks ago, has operated so effectively that today the Newfoundland regiment is recruited a full war strength. It is not expected that a second draft will be made until autumn at the close of the season for fishing. Newfoundland's vital industry. Women have replaced men on the farms, but it is not possible on the fishing boat, the main power for military service is limited.

Local Band Loses A Valuable Member

At the gathering in the park last Monday evening the members of the town band took advantage of the occasion to say their goodbyes to one of their members, Theo. Woods, who is leaving town shortly for Selkirk, Manitoba.

Mr. Woods has resided in Redcliff for the past five years and during that time has always taken a keen interest in local work. Since the present band was organized he has been one of its faithful and energetic workers, and with his instrument has added much to the success.

U.F.A. Organize At Harvest Vale

Farmers of the Harvest Vale School District have organized a branch of the U.F.A. and have shown the enthusiasm displayed this will be a real live branch. It started off with a membership of 14 and it expected this will be increased from time to time. The following are the officers elected: President--H. Swanson. Vice-Pres.--F. Scram. Sec.--Treas.--L. M. Mansfield. Directors--G. Dixon, G. H. Dickson, A. McColeman and P. H. Wadburn.

Meetings will be held regularly in the Harvest Vale school house.

ST. AMBROSE PICNIC

On Wednesday St. Ambrose church had a most enjoyable picnic on the banks of the river west of the pumping station. It was the occasion of the Sunday school summer outing and members of the congregation had been invited to join in and have supper in the cool of the evening under the refreshing shade of the trees by the river side. The camp fire was soon going strong and shortly after 7 p. m. a goodly number sat down to a most excellent supper to which ample justice was done by young and old.

May Mean Peace Move of Austria

The Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna, the official organ of the Austrian Social Democracy, demands, according to a dispatch received by the Hays agency, that the Austrian government should enter into an agreement with President Wilson.

The German imperial chancellor announced in the Reichstag last month that the Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna had been barred in Germany by the government, in full accord with the government of Austria, because the paper was "considered every day more and more a pro-republican newspaper."

R. & A. HOLDS A GOD MEETING AT BOX SPRINGS

Officers for new Association Elected -- Committee Report Satisfactory Progress -- Elevator and Cold Storage Plant for Redcliff is Next Move.

The Box Springs U. F. A. hall was well filled for the joint meeting of farmers and townspeople held there last night, and it was one of the most enthusiastic held in this district for some time. The question up for discussion, the interest displayed by all concerned and the progress reported by the different committee appointed at the last meeting, furnish ample proof that this organization is destined to become one of the most important ever organized in this district. At the initial joint meeting held in Redcliff it was decided to make these meetings a permanent affair and to organize an association composed of farmers and townspeople. The members of the town board of trade and farmers union, but the organization was not completed. At the meeting last night the suggestion was discussed and the election of permanent officers was proceeded with, and resulted as follows: President--L. S. Stone. Vice-Pres.--Messrs. F. Walker, A. E. Pettit and B. Swanson. Sec.--Treas.--W. W. Harper. Ex. Com.--L. M. Mansfield, G. Dickson, J. Darragh, A. C. Gillis, N. Larson, G. Peterson, P. Laville and C. W. Beade. It was decided to call the organization "The Redcliff and District Welfare Association". The chairman of the several committees appointed at the last meeting reported and in each case satisfactory progress was made. The good roads committee met and interviewed C. S. Pligle, M. P. P., and as a result secured indications to proceed with work fixing bad places on the main roads. This has been done and a gang of men are at present at work repairing the main roads. Other similar works is to be undertaken later. The ferry committee reported that they had helped the farmers in the district south of the river and had secured a loaned signed petition asking government assistance in installing a ferry across the river south of Redcliff. They were also taking steps to locate the necessary cable and other equipment with a view of finding out the probable cost of installing same. They expected to be able to give this information at next meeting.

Feed For Cattle In North Country

W. F. Stevens, provincial livestock officer, in this district this week looking into the feed conditions for stock. He reports that there is an abundance of hay and pasture in the north to take care of the breeding and stock cattle of the province provided it is properly utilized. It must be remembered that there are large areas that were once wooded, but have been burned over. The vegetation that followed is largely blue joint and wild prairie, or less than a horse. This forage is now in exactly the right condition to start cattle that have been on dry feed, but it is too far advanced to be used for a milch cow. A milch cow should begin to ripen and from then till the first of October will make an ideal feed for a harding heifer.

Noise of Battle Heard in Paris

The inhabitants of Paris and the suburbs, says the Matin, heard violent artillery fire in the early hours last Monday. The sky toward the east was constantly lit as by great electrical storm. Those who were on the balconies after midnight listened to the cannonade while small groups gathered on the high points of the city to watch the distant horizon. The noise of the firing was particularly loud in the southern part of the city.

Grain Elevator Here Destroyed By fire

The grain elevator here, known as the Farmers' elevator, and owned and operated by D. Broadfoot, was totally destroyed by fire early last Monday morning. The fire was first seen by W. Cross, who had just driven to Medicine Hat, and was putting his horse away in the Redcliffivery barn. This was about 1.45 in the morning. At this time the flames appeared to have gained great headway in the inside of the building and by 3 o'clock it reached the first station and gave the alarm. The whole building was ablaze. This is not to be wondered at, as the inside of the building was all of lumber and as the several bins furnished an ideal draft for the flames. After the fire brigade turned out in good season the great distance of the elevator from the nearest hydrant somewhat delayed their activities. This, together with the fact that the entire building was on fire before the alarm was sent in, made any hope of saving it out of the question. The elevator was built three years ago and cost almost $4,000. While in operation it served as a great convenience to farmers of the surrounding district. There was no grain in it at the time of the fire. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. A spark from a passing engine, a cigarette stub carelessly thrown away by passers by or boys playing with matches in the building during the day, are among some of the possible causes suggested. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The building and machinery were insured for $2,800.00. Owing to the poor crop prospects now Mr. Broadfoot says he does not expect to rebuild at present.

OFFENSIVE ON WEST FRONT A FAILURE

Reports From Allied Headquarters Show That Situation is Satisfactory -- Enemy Make Very Little Headway.

The impression of the result of the first day's battle in the new German smash on the French front is very good. Nowhere along the stretch of many miles did the enemy succeed in penetrating more than 4,000 yards, and that was only on a small sector in the middle of the front, southwest of Rheims, although orders issued by German printers announced that the first day should take them 20 kilometers from the front line of departure. On the battlefield east of Rheims the enemy did not even get beyond the advance line. The incredible resistance of the French troops preventing him from attaining the main combat line on during the first day, the section west of Rheims fought American and Italian troops, both of whom vied with the other allies in keenness and courage. Judging from reports from all allied headquarters the present German offensive is so far considered a complete failure.

Baseballers Enter Hat Tournament

A meeting of baseball enthusiasts was held in the Review office last Friday evening for the purpose of organizing and arranging plans for periodical games during the balance of the season. The following officers were elected: President--W. H. Hatcher. Sec.--Treas.--E. E. Dickles. Manager--D. McLaughlin. Captain--E. Barr. As there is a big baseball tournament in Northern Canada, which is being held at Medicine Hat it was decided to enter a team from Redcliff for this tournament. It was also decided to arrange for a game on Labor Day.

Allies Occupy The Murman Coast

American and British troops have secured the whole of the Murman coast in Northern Russia, as a dispatch from Moscow to the Central News Agency by way of Amsterdam. After capturing Kam, a railway station on the White Sea, the dispatch adds, the American and British forces advanced toward Terki, the Russian Bolshevik authorities having withdrawn to Nizhni. The commanders of the entente allied forces have issued an appeal to the population on the Murman coast requesting help against Germany and Finland. It is declared that the Murman coast is Russian territory under the protection of the entente powers. At the express request of the Russians, allied forces are on the Murman coast. The British Army is close to the extreme north of Russia. On the coast there are several harbors which are free from ice all the year round and are connected with Petrograd by rail. More forces are being sent and the local population is co-operating with the Allies. The British Army arrived to defend these railways. Meanwhile the Germans are making a desperate attempt to secure the control of the Murman coast. They threaten the harbors for submarine bases near the Zeebrugge have been closed and Ostend is being held by the Allies. Only while the British fields make it ever more difficult for their submarines to reach the Atlantic.

Dominions to Have 'Say in Peace Terms

The governments of the British dominions will have a voice in determining the terms of peace, according to a statement made by the prime minister made this statement in a speech at a dinner given in honor of the Canadian editors who are visiting London, at which Lord Beaverbrook was the host. "This is a war in which we engaged the empire," said the premier, "when we had lines to consult the dominions as to policy, and it is perfectly true that the policy which we adopted was a policy marked upon without any consultation with the dominions. But you approved of it. Henceforth you have the right to be consulted as to the policy, beforehand, and this is the change which has been effected as a result of the war."

KOROLUK-ANICHUR.

In the presence of a select committee of the House of Commons, Mr. William Koroluk and Mary Anichur were invited to marriage by the Rev. G. Lawson Gordon. This young couple have had recently come to town, and intend to take up their residence here.

PREPARE FOR PRESERVING

There is likely to be a large surplus of perishable foodstuffs raised as a result of the war garden propaganda. As this can be fully utilized only by preserving it for future use, by drying, preserving, or canning, this brings up the question of needed equipment and containers.

Last year there was little advanced preparation by manufacturers and retailers. While this, to a certain extent, has been taken care of this year, at the same time the transportation facilities of the country are being taxed to their capacity. Unless jobbers and retailers and householders work together, many will be disappointed. Householders are urged to purchase canning supplies they will need sufficiently in advance of the actual canning season to assure delivery.

SHADE NECESSARY.

Regarding the necessity of trees for the comfort of milch cows, "Conservation" says: "It is to be regretted that on many farms practically all of the trees have been cut down. Cows and other live stock often have to pasture in fields where there is no shade of any description provided. It is well known that cows must be comfortable, whether they are in the stable or in the pasture field, if they are to do their best at the pail. The dairy cow is one of the greatest friends of man. She has helped to lift mortgage from farms all over the country. In spite of this, very little consideration is given to her comfort by many who depend upon her as a money-maker. If possible, provide shade for the cows in the hot, sultry days of summer. If there is no shade in the field where the cows are pasturing, let them run, if possible, into a field or lane where there are trees under which they can rest. Those who look after the comfort of their dairy cows in the hot, dry days of summer by providing plenty of fresh water and shade will be abundantly repaid in dollars and cents. The dairy cow deserves this much attention."

This should be of particular interest to owners of milch cows in this district where shade trees are as scarce as hen's teeth. If shade is essential for the comfort of and to get the best results from cows surely it is equally essential for the comfort and happiness of human beings. This being the case it is a wonder more people are not more interested in the planting of trees in towns located on the bald prairie, where the sun holds full sway for ten hours of the day and for six months of the year.

Owing the exorbitant prices now being charged for hen feed many who answered the call to raise hens and thus help solve the food problem, are now being forced either to sell or kill off their flock. There surely must be something radically wrong somewhere and the sooner the government takes some action in this direction the better.

A BAD IMPRESSION.

Although the friends in Calgary between the civil and military authorities have been amenable, yet the affair has created a bad impression throughout the country and has given Alberta—and particularly Calgary—a reputation which neither deserves.

A press dispatch from Ottawa to the Calgary Herald says: "There is no need of disguising the fact that the cabinet is deeply concerned over the situation which has developed. Until R. B. Bennett challenged before the Alberta appeal court the validity of the military order—insouning the enforcement of the act was proceeding smoothly. Reinforcements were going forward regularly and there was no serious difficulty in the enforcement of the law. Quebec was also making it but the business is capable of very considerable expansion. According to Mr. Meeker, an American potato flour manufacturer of long experience, a ton of potatoes will produce 600 pounds of flour. The present he describes is a simple one.

"First, the potatoes are washed clean and then sliced with the peeler and dropped immediately into water to rinse them and prevent discoloration. The water is then drained off and the slices are either parboiled or steamed for eight or ten minutes, when the starch will be cooked and the slices will become transparent. The slices are then transferred to a dried pan, for the first few hours, are subjected to a current of hot air not hotter than 120 degrees F., after which the temperature is gradually increased to 170 degrees, but no greater. The drying process is continued until the slices are brittle, though it is better material if a few here and there are not thoroughly dried. They are then taken from the bin and placed in piles in a room where they can be well stored at intervals for three or four days, after which they may be ground into flour.

SAMMIES MAKE GOOD.

American troops have, had their baptism of fire, gas and all the horrors of war brought into play by the Huns in the earlier stages of this conflict. Like the contemptible British army and the unsophisticated Canucks, however, the American Sammies whom the Huns said could cut no figure in this war, have come through with flying colors. This another vain boast of military mad Huns has been shattered.

In the opening moments of the onslaught the Americans were driven back by superior numbers. They rallied, however, and in a counter attack not only gained all lost ground but by sheer pluck and determination, forced the enemy still further back, and turned the enemy attack into a complete failure.

By their performance, those who a few days ago were branded by the Germans as a few green Yankees, have shown themselves superior to the seasoned Huns who have made military training and war a business for the past half century. American troops are now represented on all the battlefronts. They are there in large numbers. They have shown they are made of the right kind of stuff. For some time to come they will grow in strength and efficiency and they will in very surly be a most important factor in the final struggle for peace and democracy.

Experimental farms are strongly advising those who have gardens this year and expect to have them again next year, to go in for raising their own seeds this season. Evidently the experimental farms got some of the poor seeds which were on the market this year. Some of these seeds are still in the ground around here and as they have not shown any signs of life so far it is feared they must have been planted upside down and are growing the other way.

Make Potato Flour To Reinforce Wheat

Canada has been called the granary of the Empire, but no one seems to have thought of giving her the reputation, the cellar of the Empire. And yet the potato could be made a very real counterpart of the granary. Owing to the great difficulty in the war garden idea, thousands of people are growing potatoes, who, before the war, relied entirely on supplies from the farms. There is every reason to suppose that potatoes will be much more plentiful this year than ever before.

Why not convert as large a proportion as possible into potato flour? Potato flour mills require but a few hundred dollars of working capital, the machinery required is of the simplest and the resulting product is a flour has been used extensively in Britain, especially during the past year. A mill in the state of Washington produces 25 to 30 barrels a day and sold its product during the month of April for $21 a barrel. Certain starch companies in Canada are also making it but the business is capable of very considerable expansion. According to Mr. Meeker, an American potato flour manufacturer of long experience, a ton of potatoes will produce 600 pounds of flour. The present he describes is a simple one.

"First, the potatoes are washed clean and then sliced with the peeler and dropped immediately into water to rinse them and prevent discoloration. The water is then drained off and the slices are either parboiled or steamed for eight or ten minutes, when the starch will be cooked and the slices will become transparent. The slices are then transferred to a dried pan, for the first few hours, are subjected to a current of hot air not hotter than 120 degrees F., after which the temperature is gradually increased to 170 degrees, but no greater. The drying process is continued until the slices are brittle, though it is better material if a few here and there are not thoroughly dried. They are then taken from the bin and placed in piles in a room where they can be well stored at intervals for three or four days, after which they may be ground into flour.

"A revolving washer—a long box partially submerged in water and capable of holding a ton of potatoes an hour—can be built cheaply. An ordinary root cutter costing about $30 will answer for slicing the potatoes, but a more clever slicing the potatoes, but it is probable that a more desirable machine might be found on the market. The average mill cost from $150 to $225 and up, but at present can not be obtained on short notice."

Time Extended for Wheat Substitutes

Because of the limited supplies of substitutes for wheat flour at present available in Canada in connection with the demand which would result from the operation of the recent order of the Canadian food board requiring the use of substitutes in certain preparations, the board has deferred until later to be fixed the operation of certain sections of that order.

Bakers, confectioners, public eating places and private households will not, for the present, have to use one pound of substitute to every four pounds of wheat flour in baking. They must, however, use one pound of substitute to every nine pounds of wheat flour as provided in the law now operative.

British forces after landing on the Marston coast have taken the port of Ken, on the White Sea, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

Allies Endorse the Channel Tunnel Scheme

Strong support for the English Channel tunnel scheme from the French and Italian delegates was voiced at the International Parliamentary conference. A resolution in favor of constructing the tunnel was carried unanimously, says a cable. It was estimated by the sponsors of the resolution that the passenger traffic from France alone would be 5,000,000 persons annually, instead of the 100,000 that traveled by steamer before the war. The proposed passenger and freight traffic between Great Britain and the continent was figured at a profit of $1,118,000, or seven per cent, on the tunnel company's capital of $16,000,000. The tunnel, which should be completed within five years of its commencement, would be worked, in case of emergency, by electricity supplied from a power station in Kent, possibly ten miles or more inland. It was suggested that the tunnel should be maintained under the authority of the war office, and a dip in the level of the rails, forming a water lock, by which the tunnel could, in case of emergency, be flooded from floor to roof for a mile, would be under the control of the commander-in-chief of Great Britain and the neighboring forts. Against the danger from enemy submarines, depth bombs or mines, the tunnel would be protected by a covering of the chalk bed of the channel of a minimum thickness of 100 feet. The water depth above in the Channel would at no vulnerable point be less than 180 feet.

Alberta Wants 7000 Farm Laborers

J. D. McGregor, director of agricultural labor for the Canada food board, has issued a statement to the press, "almost on the eve of the western harvest," pointing out that "the responsibility for the lives of millions of our allied people in Europe rests upon us" in Canada in the handling of the grain crop of 1918. The statement calls upon every citizen who can possibly do so to help with the harvest this year, either by working on the land or by replacing at city work someone else who is better able to go. To those who, in the recent registration enquired their willingness to change their occupation in a national crisis the better to serve the interests of the cause of themselves in the war, it is pointed out that with millions of our kinsmen and allies in Europe, Canada's failure to contribute food may stall starvation next winter.

To meet this situation a large increase in acreage was sown to grain in Canada this season. In order that nothing be lost for the want of labor to harvest the crop, every citizen is urged to arrange his or her affairs so that they will do nothing to hinder helping, directly or indirectly, with the harvesting. Especial appeal is made to able bodied men in non-productive occupations and those who signified their willingness on their registration to engage in farm work, which needed, the food board has addressed a call to carry out their promise and place themselves at the disposal for harvest work with the farm labor employment office. The board recommends that every town have a clearing house where farmers and volunteers for farm labor can get together. Manitoba needs 10,000 men; Saskatchewan needs 20,000; Alberta, 7,000 and British Columbia 5,000. Easterners will be fully occupied in getting up the crop of their own provinces.

At Emperor William's personal request, says a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph company, a majority of the members of the Prussian House of Lords have agreed not to expel Prince Charles Liebowitz, the German ambassador at London at the outbreak of the war, who issued a memorandum last March criticizing the German foreign policy and blaming the German government for starting the war.

Canadian Red Cross Will Help France

The Canadian Red Cross Society has again received an urgent request from the London committee of the French Red Cross to take part in an Empire-wide appeal for the sick and wounded soldiers of the French nation and for the French prisoners of war. The society, after due consideration, have approved of such steps being taken by its various branches throughout the Dominion as may be thought most advisable for the purpose of raising funds for France's Day, July 14th. Monies raised will be transmitted through the Canadian Red Cross Society as Canada's contribution to the British Empire Funds for the sick and wounded soldiers of France.

The Alberta Provincial branch has decided to make a grant of $25,000 to "France's Day" fund as a contribution from the people of Alberta to this world-wide appeal on behalf of the sick and wounded of our gallant ally. This sum will be made up from the funds of the society and from such special contributions as are received for the purpose.

It is felt that at this time it is unwise to launch any special effort through the province in connection with "France's Day" fund, but persons wishing to make special contributions are requested to forward money through the nearest local branch of the Red Cross, and it is in anticipation of a generous response to the needs of France that the Alberta Red Cross has pledged itself to the above mentioned gift.

When we consider the sacrifices that our gallant allies have been called upon to make and the magnitude of their needs, a generous response from the people of Canada should be the universal answer to this appeal.

Contributions for France's Day Fund should be remitted through local branches of the Red Cross, and especially marked for the above fund. Contributions may be forwarded any time between now and the end of October.

How to Control The Wild Mustard

We reprint the following from a pamphlet issued by the Conservation Commission:

"On a number of farms in Dundas county where the Commission of Conservation is conducting illustration work on farms, various methods of cultivation are being tried to check the spread of wild mustard. On fields where grain was sown this spring, part of the land was ploughed and part was thoroughly cultivated only, before seeding. On fields where the grain was kept clean at summer and no mustard was allowed to go to seed, the cultivated portion shows much less mustard this year than it is to be seen in the grain on the land which was ploughed, while the stand of grain is equally as good as the cultivated portion of the field.

"There are two things to be looked for in this comparison: note which part of the field gives the best grain crop and which is freer from mustard. If this test is contemplated on your farm next spring, by all means see that the mustard in your crop of corn is allowed to go to seed. There are many similar simple tests that any farmer might conduct. The way to find out if a thing is good is to try it out, on a small scale at first, on your own farm. Do not plunge headlong into some new thing the first time you hear of it. Try things side by side so that a comparison may be made."

Says Prohibition is Decreasing Crime

Heads of police departments from all over the Dominion assembled at Hamilton, Ont., for the three days' convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada. The feature of Tuesday morning's session was the annual report of George Riddell, chief of police of Montreal, N. B., and president of the association.

After commenting on Dominion prohibition and what it is doing to decrease crime, the Military Service Act, and food regulations, the chief called attention to the necessity of police organizations preparing for after-the-war conditions. He suggested the appointment of a committee to discuss plans for meeting any contingency. While not desiring to view the outlook too seriously, he pointed out that the distribution of the returned men at the close of the war was going to be a very complex problem. The old order of things would go and an entirely new system emerge. It was most essential that the police be prepared for it.

No Loafers Allowed On This Continent

The loafers and merely "nomadic" workers of the North American continent have fallen upon evil days. Both in Canada and the United States the law has now set its face squarely against them. On July 1st, the United States federal order, as drawn up by Provost Marshall Enoch Cresser, went into effect. All men of that age, that is between the ages of 18 and 50 have now to be engaged in some productive employment or get into the army. This Federal Order is being reinforced by anti-loafer laws, enacted by the state legislatures. Canada's anti-loafer law has been in operation since early in April and over 60 years of age unless a bona fide student, or physically unfit, or reasonably unable to find employment, must be engaged in some useful occupation.

Along the Marne, between the town of Fossy and the river Somme, where the Germans crossed the Marne, the Americans in a strong counter-attack forced back the enemy to the right bank of the stream. At other points along the river they took to the greatest advantage their machine guns—crossing the river on pontoon bridges, killing or wounding many of them. In the counter-attack near Fossy between 1,000 and 1,500 prisoners were taken by the Americans. The French general in command on this sector sent a congratulatory message to the general in command of the American forces.

HELPING OR HINDERING.

"This war is not, as in the past, a war merely of opposing armies, but a war of nations, and there is not today a man or woman in the Empire who is not doing something either to help or to hinder the winning of the war. A man of great distinction told me the other day that he estimated the weight of purely military effort at only 10 per cent of the whole, the remaining 75 per cent being, strictly speaking, of a non-military nature, and made up of many elements—agriculture, food shipping, diplomacy, etc. I think he is probably not far wrong, and when people ask me, as they sometimes do, how the war is getting on, I feel inclined to reply, 'Why ask me? Why not ask yourself and the remainder of the 75 per cent?'"—Sir William Robertson.

Irish Situation Embarrasses Judge

A Belfast cable says: "I have never been more embarrassed since I became a judge," said Justice Duff, at the opening of the Kerry assizes. "Things were bad enough in Clare," he continued, "but they are worse in Kerry." Having commented on the attempted murder of two judges in the presence of hundreds of people in Tralee for revenge of the brushing of two men in the mud on the police, and attacks on people's houses, roads for arms, boycotting and general lawlessness, he said that behind the police was the British to the people of Kerry. He warned ministers of religion, editors of newspapers, clergy and district councillors, that if the law was not obeyed the people might be deprived of all civil rights.

"Subsequently in a case where the jury disregarded the judge told them they would be the last jury summoned in the county of Kerry in this time."

The prisoners will be sent elsewhere and probably get two years each.

To added that a reward of $500 had been offered by the Irish government for information relative to the attempted landing of arms in Ireland and capture thereof. From this it appears that the government know that attempts may be made by Sinn Féin to control the island of Ireland. When it was attempted to hold a Socialist gathering on the 12th, under the presidency of the parish priest Quinn, the police gave the meeting 30 minutes to disperse and, not complying, the troops who had come on bicycles, dispersed them.

U.S. Army Has

The Biggest Soldier

The biggest soldier in any army of the allied forces now serving in France has been discovered. He is a U.S. machine, his name is Pat Grealy, quartermaster sergeant.

Grealy has always had the reputation of being a "whole of a man," but it wasn't until he got to doing Blanche shells in France that his fellow fighters fully realized just how big he was.

The first time an "alert" was sounded after his company got up front, Grealy made a dash for a dugout and got wedged tight in the entrance. All efforts to get out were of no avail until six former football stars in the company were called upon to "rush him through."

They had to enlarge the entrance before they could get him out.

HATTI DECLARES WAR.

The council of state, acting in accordance with the legislative powers given it under the new Haytien constitution, has unanimously voted the declaration of war upon Germany demanded by the president of the republic.

Allow Increase to Canadian Railway Men

It now looks as though the threatened strike of Canadian railroad men is off. The Canadian Railway Men board joined a statement to the effect that an order had been made increasing the wages of railway employees in Canada. The order indicated that the Macleod award, affecting the wages and hours of service of the railway employees in the United States, shall be put in force throughout the Dominion. The statement declares that the increase can only be maintained if the railways are permitted to increase freight rates, as in American territory. The board, it is stated, spent the day urging upon the government the necessity for increasing the rates, but whether the government decided to take this action could not be learned.

24 Nations Form Economic Association

An economic association of twenty-four nations, comprising the entire allies, already in existence, declared Lord Robert Cecil, British under secretary of state for foreign affairs and minister of blockade, in a comprehensive statement regarding the world's trade after the war. Whether Germany eventually shall be admitted to this economic association, will be determined by the United States food administration, who has been lecturing in and around Chicago for the last month, has accepted an invitation from the Canada food board to go out to the western Canada fairs and give talks and demonstrations on the food value of corn. Miss Murray, who has gone to Edmonton to report to the provincial minister of agriculture of Alberta, arrived there Sunday.

tion, declared the British minister, will be determined by the United States food administration, who has been lecturing in and around Chicago for the last month, has accepted an invitation from the Canada food board to go out to the western Canada fairs and give talks and demonstrations on the food value of corn. Miss Murray, who has gone to Edmonton to report to the provincial minister of agriculture of Alberta, arrived there Sunday.

Lord Robert described this statement by the president as a definition of the qualifications for membership in the association of nations, and added "We these declarations we give our warmest assent."

FLYING ACROSS ATLANTIC.

In order to stimulate the production of more powerful engines and more suitable aircraft, the Daily Mail announces the revival of its offer of a prize of $75,000 to the first person who flies across the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Great Britain by air, or vice versa, in 72 hours consecutively.

Miss Anna G. Murray of the United States food administration, who has been lecturing in and around Chicago for the last month, has accepted an invitation from the Canada food board to go out to the western Canada fairs and give talks and demonstrations on the food value of corn. Miss Murray, who has gone to Edmonton to report to the provincial minister of agriculture of Alberta, arrived there Sunday.
